

Little Golf TRAIN - a program for children ages 2-5
founded by Patricia Donnelly, PhD and Nicole Weller, PGA/LPGA

5th March Little Golf TRAIN Seminar

Patricia Donnelly, PhD

My mission to have sport, specifically golf, taught in a positive, developmentally correct way was fueled by my many years of teaching children of all ages and abilities. Additionally, I have served as a Master Teacher who trained student teachers and became experienced in educating those who desired to teach. I also wrote and presented papers on the subject, such as "Teaching and Sustaining the Child Player" at the World Scientific Congress of Golf in St. Andrews, Scotland in 1998 and subsequently "The Developmental Teaching of Sport" at the Educational Records Bureau Millennial Conference in 2000, and "Sparking Early Golf Interest: The How's and Why's of Teaching Children 2-5" at the PGA Youth & Family Golf Summit Orlando, FL in 2015. I combined my educational background with what I saw was a strong need for a program to introduce children to the game in an age-appropriate, researched-based, play-oriented approach so the children learned to love golf and all it has to offer, not because an adult forced them into it. That's how Little Golf TRAIN was born.
